LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

CITY Manaporus.—On Friday afternoon last, eight young men entered the bar-room of Mr. Thomas, at Page's wharf, each one carrying a carbine. They awaggered fiercely and drank freely, but meeting with no opposition, were not abusive to the proprietor or his people.

Sunday afternoon, eight young men—whether the same or others we know not—entered the parlor of Mr. Howard, at the Collyer wharf, and demanded cigars. On being informed that the bar could not be opened on Sunday, they sallied out and broke the windows of the bar-room. On seeing Mr. Howard approaching them, one of them laveled a platol at him and threatened to blow his brains out if he should come a step nearer. They then came up to the city; but, near the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and 3d street, perceiving Mr. Howard—who had kept them in view, in the vain hope of being able to point them out to the police—one of them turned back upon him and gave him a severe blow in the face with a stone; after which, he was obliged to return home and make the bast of his case.

We give these cases on the information of credible persons, yet not without the fear that Alderman Bayly, though with a kindly regard for our feelings, will pronounce them false and libelous. Whether it would be wise economy on the part of our City Fathers to disband the police and give the city up to the control of ruffian and murderous "regulators," is for that respectable body to determine. In the meantime, however, we would command to the Board of Aldermen, the project of appealuting a committee to ascertain whether a case of facts exists calling for any improvement in police matters. The Common Council need no such imformation. They fairly and squarely admitted quits as much as any newspaper has every aid, at their last meeting, and evinced a willingness to do their utmost to correct the evils that surround as. But the President of the Board of Aldermen is not so credulous, and, like our worthy Mayor, appredistes the policy of masterly inactivity, unless to be upon emergencies of extr cicle which we copy from the States, a Democratic Journal, and which is the only independent daily paper now published in our city. This paper meets out to Mr. William F. Bayley, President of the Board of Aldermen, that which is justly due to him; and we may say in truth, that the half has not been told. We regard Mr. Bailey as the head and frost of the rioting, lawleseness, and blood-shed that now disgraces the Metropolis of the Union. Not that Mr. Balley is found in person these cut-throats, villians and theives in ds of darkness and crime, yet he is their efender in public and private, and from his chair in the Board of Aldermen, asserting, that the tates is libelling this precious crew.

All this is easily accounted for. Mr. Bailey is a stire of Baltimore. They were known as a portion of those desper-does called "Regulators," and among them was resigned the son of a distinguished legal func-tionary of Washington city.

FIRE.-About half-past three o'clock yesterday morning fire was discovered in the frame house situated on Ninth street, between I and K, owned and occupied as a bakery by Mr. Hutchinson. The wind was blowing a perfect gale at the time, and the house must have been destroyed had it not been for the exertions of the citizens living imme diately in the neighborhood, assisted as they were by the well-directed efforts of three persons, who, hearing the cry of fire, proceeded immediately to the scene, and soon succeeded in subduing the flames. There was not a fire company on the ground, nor a member of the Auxiliary Guard to be seen anywhere in the neighborhood, although the bell of the Northern Liberties Company was rung for some fifteen minutes. The fact of no nan being seen, even in the neighborhood of the fire, was the subject of general remark. Where were they!

SOLDIER'S HOME.—We know that our citizens do not know the fact, and that they will be surprised to learn that this beautiful place, erected for the comfort and accommodation of the soldier, is to be turned into something else—a residence, perhaps, for a President of the United States and his cabinet counsellers—and the poor soldiers boarded at a tavern at three dollars a week each. The President and some of his cabinet think it would be cheaper. Look out for the next Congrees watch the proceedings and prevent, if

The Presbyterian (N. S.) Synod of Virginia meets to-morrow evening at 7 1-2 o'clock, in the Assembly's Church, corner of Massachusetts avenue and Fifth street. Rev. Dr. Read, of Richmond, opens the Synod with a sermon, and the sessions of the body are public. The territory covered by this Synod takes in part of Maryland and Virginia, and the District of Columbia.

HIGH-HARDED OUTRAGE.—A party of rowdies held possession of Four-and-a-half street (canal) bridge, yesterday afternoon, and insulted and maltreated passers by in the most shameful manner. They seized a grey-headed old man, by the name of Leddy, threw him down, cuffed him, and threw dust in his face. They insulted, in the grossest manner, two young ladies, the daughters of one of the leading citizens of the Seventh Ward; in fact, no lady was allowed to pass without insult of language, or through having her clothes lifted. A young man, quietly passing the bridge, was knocked down, and, on his showing a disposition to resent the insult, a pistol was drawn upon him by one of the desperadoes, and the others assailed him with stones. No arrests were made. It gives us no pleasure to record such occurrences; but the truth must be told.

MEXICAN APPAIRS .- The Washington corres ndent of the New York Courier and Enquirer follows in regard to Mexican affairs:

as follows in regard to Mexican affairs:

"Private advices from Mexico represent the affairs of that Republic to be again in a confused and depressed state. It is almost impossible for the government to obtain money, and the arrears of last year's chryges are $9,000,000. Comonfort has been nearly unanimously elected President; but so many internal obstacles exist to the inauguration of the new system provided by the constitution, that it is thought to be doubtful whether it will be attempted. Circumstances and the temper of the nation seem to invite Comonfort to assume the dictatorship. Notwithstanding the reported brilliant success of Messrs. LaSere and Benjamin in ousting the Sloo grantees from their privileges, it, was not considered in Mexico that the grant obtained by themselves for the Tehuantepec railroad and canal would be available for the actual construction of the work. The rights of the United States relative to transportation of the mails, troops, and munitions of war are not defined in it with that particularity which Mr. Forsyth thought necessary, which was the reason that he avended no encouragement to the plans of LaSere in it with that particularity which Mr. Forsyth thought necessary, which was the reason that he extended no encouragement to the plans of LaSere and Benjamin, and incurred their censure. The war will be immediately renewed by Messrs. Souls Sloo and Flance Fitter. in the United States, and will no doubt continu until our own government settles the dispute by negotiation with Mexico, which shall acquire the right of way, and an absolute or qualified jurisdic

CONSTRUING A NOTICE.-A writer in the New York Commercial Advertiser, who represents him-self as one of the passengers aboard of the first regular steamboat on her first regular trip, prefaces his account with the following amusing "Fulton's new steamboat was the wonder

"Fulton's new steamboat was the wonder of the day. She was visited daily by hundreds of the curious, who asked many queer questions in relation to the operation of the steam and ma-chinery; one of these almost invariably was, 'Where and how was the steam to be conveyed to the water-weel?' The crowd of visitors beto the water-weel?' The crowd of visitors became a great annoyance and hindrance to those employed on board, and I recollect a very amusing incident connected with the attempt to prevent intrusion. Mr. Fulton directed a painter to letter a board with the words, 'One dollar for any person to come on board without liberty,' which was put up in a conspicuous place. One day a sailor came along and read the notice. Jack was not long in putting his construction upon it, and giving his quid a roll in his mouth, and with a laughing, knowing wink of the eye, jumped on board without ceremony, pointed to the board and accosted the man nearest him with 'Mister, who pays me that dollar?' Mr. Fulton was standing near and laughed heartily, a thing unusual with him, for he was generally, while among the men, very taciturn and grave, giving his orders and directions in a laconic manner."

MIDNIGHT DISTURBANGE .- At 11 or 12 o'cloc MIDSIGHT DISTURBANGE.—At 11 or 12 o'clock on Saturday night a quarrel arose between two young men, on D street, between 9th and 10th, when one of them felled the other at a single blow, and kicked or stamped him when down. The families in the neighborhood were greatly alarmed, and one gentleman ran to the next crossing shouting for the watch; but the watch did not come!

The Carrier Pigeons.—Among the passengers by the Atlantic was Henry J. Rogers, Esq., of Baltimore. On approaching Sandy Hook the steamer was neared by the news agent of the associated press, when Mr. Rogers hove overboard a message to his wife, which was immediately conveyed to the telegraph office by a carrier pigeon, and thence telegraphed to this city. When he stepped ashore at New York from the steamer he was met with a message from his wife, telegraphed from Baltimore, informing him they were all well at home.

THE VICISSITUDES OF COMMERCE.-The Ne York Evening Post relates the following remark able instance of the vicissitudes of commerce :

"A few months since, the partner of a commercial house in this city was taken to a lunatic asylum, utterly deranged, as was said, by his unparalleled prosperity in business. During the year previous his firm had cleared $1,300,000. He died in the awayer and his own satata. previous his firm had cleared $1,300,000. He died in the asylum and his own estate was valued at $2,500,000, all invested in the concern of which he was a partner. The firm itself failed the other day and is now said to be utterly insolvent. One item of the assets of the deceased's estate was a thousand shares of the Illinois Central Railroad stock, which was selling at the time of his decease at $140 a share, and which was worth, after paying up the installments, $800,000. The same property sold yesterday at public sale at $50,000. All this occurred within eighteen months—the prosperity, the insanity, the decease and the insolvency."

The Extraordinary Bre Rive at Possuans.

Some three months since we copied from a Portland paper an account of an usused chimney in a dwelling house in that city having been taken possession of by bees, and that it was nearly filled with honey. It was concluded not to disturb the honey at that time, and the covering to the chimney was carefully replaced. We learn from the Pertland Argus that a few days since it was determined to make an attempt to capture the became and gain possession of their marvellous store of sweets; when lo! on removing the coverings, both bees and honey were gone! The sagacious little fellows had wisely come to the conclusion that they were no longer safe, and they concluded to move, and they did move, bag and baggage. Not a particle of honey was left, and but small portlons of the comb and wax, which the bees were hard at work taking off teo. THE EXTRAORDINARY BEE HIVE AT PORGLAND.
